The past couple of decades have brought us considerable technological advancement. We have created a world where even the smallest thing in our lives can be controlled via devices such as cell phones and computers. As we advance into this new generation of technological advancement, we need to focus on certain moral decisions that were not a consideration in previous generations. In many cases, it is debatable what is the right choice to make, but certain moral considerations need to be made based on the safety and security of the individuals involved. This course teaches academic ethical principles to students and those who teach them to ensure that they will be morally sound in their actions. It also provides them with the tools to identify when something is morally questionable. It teaches them to be aware of what may fall into the category of questionable behavior. The course also teaches them to be aware of the ramifications of their actions and to be mindful of the actions of others. Pursuing Ethical Decisions: Choosing between Morally Sound Actions and Unsound Actions Description: Ethical decision making has been a concern of mankind from the time of the earliest civilizations. Throughout history, some actions have been more ethical than others. It is now up to the current generation to come together to make the ethical choice on a daily basis. A multitude of situations present themselves on a daily basis that affect ethical decision making. It is important to decide between two courses of action when faced with this kind of a decision. Though we may not always like to admit it, when a decision is made on ethical grounds, it may not be a perfect decision. However, it is the best decision that can be made, because it is the ethical choice. If a choice is not made on ethical grounds, there may be no better choice. Finding the Best Option: Choosing the Right Course of Action Based on the Ethical Norm Description: Ethical decision making can get to be rather complex, since it is the basis of our everyday lives. In many cases, the right thing to do is not the easiest thing to do. There are times when things are not as cut and dry as black and white. There are grey areas that require the use of ethics to make the right choice. Choosing between two different courses of action that have a similar situation is an ethical dilemma. This ethical dilemma can be located in many areas in our daily lives. An example of this would be the work place. Some situations and jobs require that certain rules be followed. In some cases, 77a5ca646e
