What's New in the Adobe Photoshop 2022 (Version 23.0)?

Q: Joomla 2.5: Set multiple categories based on article I have a Article, that is only displayed if there are certain categories in mind. So, I added a field to the Article, that is set to show the categories, if there are any. There should be some script that checks for which categories are present in the article and then return the set categories. So far I came up with this: `if ($field['fieldName'] == 'categories') { $articles = $this->_db->getAll('SELECT * FROM #__content WHERE id = '.$item->id); foreach($articles as $article) { echo $article->categories; } }` I suspect there is probably some security hole in this code, because it is my first try and not knowing much about Joomla. But it is quite convenient to set the categories in a and do not have to copy it and paste it back into the article. A: You don't need to loop through $articles, $article->categories should do the work for you. $item->id won't be any use in a query. Q: Interface not exposing correctly Im trying to create interface in Unity but when i check it in editor it is not exposing correctly. My example is simple class such as following: using UnityEngine; using System.Collections; public class SomeClass : MonoBehaviour { public class Interface { public void doWork(); } } interface MainInterface { void doWork(); } The MainClass looks like this: using UnityEngine; using System.Collections; public class MainClass : MonoBehaviour, MainInterface { public void doWork() { Console.WriteLine("doWork called"); } } The usage looks like this: using UnityEngine; using System.Collections; public class SomeClass : MonoBehaviour { public MainInterface Interface { get { return new MainInterface(); } }
