I'm using OData Media Library in order to expose my local PC but when I start playing a song on it, this stops to work. So I'd like to start a local server (for instance to solve this. How can I resolve this? Thanks for your ideas.

A: I solved this issue using IIS. Exposing your content is done in a single step. All you have to do is to create an IP (or better): Create a WebDAV (on IIS), for instance Then add the address into the online content. All media files will appear into WebDAV, no longer in your PC Now you have to enable your computer as a server. To do so, go to the Start menu and search for 'Program and Features', then select it. Then click on 'Change' and choose: 'Media Streaming Features'. Click on

'Add/Remove Features'. Finally, the WebDAV has to be enabled. Open Control Panel, right click on 'IIS', select 'Internet Information Services' and then look for the 'Web Server (IIS)' thing and click on 'Properties'. In the 'Web Server (IIS)' set, look for 'Application Pools' and 'Turn Managed Pipeline On'. I used Windows 7 as a test and it works. But I didn't find some details of Windows 2008R2 A: The other answers don't work for OData Media Library. The issue is that we're using OData Media Library, and we're expressing the media files via the normal media link in M$ SharePoint. Media File e79caf774b

Minister Rakesh Pratap Singh on Saturday said that the government has invited applications from eligible students to provide free education up to Class XII. "We have decided to fill the posts of teachers. Candidates can apply by sending their application forms in the prescribed format to the deputy director and regional director of education in the college concerned and the principal of the college, if the college has more than one", Rakesh Pratap Singh told reporters in New Delhi. Free education will be given to students who pass Class XII with 45 per cent marks. "In case of girl students, the education department will provide scholarship with a percentage of the salary of an ordinary government teacher", he added. On the NDA government's decision to waive off farm loans up to a limit of Rs 40,000, the minister said it is not a collateral driven loan waiver. "It is for the benefit of people as the government will pay back the loans after six years". "I can premises. ABI also argues that it is entitled to equitable relief in the form of an extension of time. See Penn Alliance, 15 A.3d at 76 (“A court of equity may, in a proper case, enforce the lease even if it does not literally comply with the statute [of frauds].”). -7- J-A19022-16 In response, Ms. Vassilatos argues that she performed under the lease and is entitled to its benefits because, in relevant part, she paid rent, acknowledged its existence, and substantially met the terms of the lease. She contends that she should not be deprived of those benefits because she cannot invoke the statute of frauds in part to avoid liability for her failure to comply with the terms of the lease. Alternatively, she argues that the lease, which was signed by a lawyer, was legally insufficient to comply with the statute of frauds and that ABI should be estopped from raising the statute of frauds defense. We are mindful that, because this case was tried with the consent of the parties, [t]he evidence and all reasonable inferences
