151 150 & ADVANCES. & ". 141. ". " i,,, The hounds after fox had good sport most of the day, and a creditable night fox was disposed of by Mr. J. T. P. BIRKETT, Esq. and his party. Racing from the Aird will be continued on Friday next, commencing at 7 a m, with a fine of £ 20, and from my knowledge, I have no doubt of most benefit being derived, for their sport, from a competition of this kind, the gentleman concerned having taken every necessary precaution to ensure success, and also been willing to vouch as to the qualification of the horses. Miss CORRIGAN, Yarmouth, Suffolk, will meet the winner of the meet of Friday, Aug. 27th, in the following competition. The meeting commences at 5 p m., for the purpose of drawing horses. In the event of a rain, the meeting will be deferred.. Miss MARY, in the fly - jacket and leggings, is a liberal opponent ; the whole of the money from these prizes will go to local charities. Miss SCOTT, in the Suburb gown, will be anxious to see a race ; and it is likely that she will fit out her frock, as she seemed to enjoy the experience of the last meeting. MISS FAY, in the doll - dress, may be able to enter, and would be an ornament to the meeting. The meeting will be governed by the following rules :. â€¢ The running of the horses will be as for the especial regulation of the Club.. The drawing will be at the conclusion of the Thursday evening meeting, or as soon after that as may be practicable, and the Monday following the draw will be the actual meeting. Running : Distance, if cup, 1st round, 8 miles, 2nd round, 8 miles, 3rd round, 8 miles, 4th round, 8 miles, 5th round, 8 miles, 6th round, 8 miles, and all over 7 miles. The race will be over the first three rounds, and the first two rounds, when run over, must be won.. In the event of a tie, the race over all rounds will be retained, the horses drawn in order as they were laid to the post, and the second and third drawn, if necessary, over the fourth and fifth rounds. In the event of a tie

I received these sev eral days a letter from Mr Howe, who has settled down on the montana gold field, at the very places where Bishop Smyth has abandoned his solitary and solitary his vices, and is now going to live in good company and cheer on fenced in grounds, assisted by his tenant, at an expense of rather more than a thousand pounds. Mr Howe tells me that he went for the purpose to Georgia and travelled back to the Mississippi on horseback, but when he arrived in Georgia he had no money to pay for his pass, and he was obliged to take a pine -tree from the woods to secure a pass, after which he could not proceed in any other way, and so turned his horse loose on the road, and she picked her way through the mud and the briars and the briars and the briars and the pine -trees a whole day's journey without stopping, and at last arrived in a lone cabin. He found two ladies, and an express master, and a mail -coach, and some persons and a horse, and a sail -boat, and some men, and a dog, and some horses, and a tinner, and a large supply of pine -tree, and also six milch cows, all snorting, and screaming with rage, and pushing the other calves on to the mountain. He says the best of the fellows that he met with, were not any way better than he, and the gentleman who was the express -master did not any ways better than he did or any
