Motorola Unlocking Tool What's an uncut version? A 9-track version of the album where Ken Armstrong had left off originally. The Operation Mindcrime albums (drummer Tony Franklin was supposed to be a co-writer of one of the tracks, but was unavailable) were to be released by Tool in "12 Raw Tracks" format in "Ultimate Collection". In January 2000, Tool released a new version of the Tool album, forgoing their contract with Atlantic to release the album for the second time in a different format. The poster had references to the lyrics of the song on the front and a blank inside. The blank inside contained a free sample of the brand new "Motorola" music. The music of "Motorola" is recycled from the track "Motorola" on the album The Grudge. The original track is a 9-
