You have a telekinetic power, a gift given by the Maker to only a select few. Its power was handed over to you upon birth, but not by your parents. It was a lab experiment gone wild. Your name is Silver. You have the power of The Sifter and your job is to stop a madman named Malix from creating a zombie apocalypse. You have broken out of a secret government facility, which has trapped and experimented on you for your power. After escaping, you head down to the underground lair of the evil scientist Malix, who has been working away on a zombie apocalypse experiment of his own. Malix has a secret elevator system, and an army of mutated dogs to help him get the project done in time. Malix is also the last of a group of animals who once ruled the planet, and he hates you and what you represent for stopping him now. ... You better kill him before he kills you...Because he will... Hey, and since we're talking about the amazing Indie scene out there..Here's the Dev Team behind Silver Island Cracked Version: Come say HI to them on Twitter @SilverIslandDevs and follow us on Twitter @KotakuEntertainment for more info on Silver Island Cracked Version! Follow us on twitter @KotakuEntertainment or on facebook - or check us out at kotaku.com Come on, join my discord: I was originally going to not offer a contest but then I decided to do one instead. So for this contest I want you guys to design a ring/ornament to show off the power of The Sifter. In general I'd like the design to be simple and elegant and the more you pack in the more you'd have to pay for it and that could put you in the way of an earlier entry so be careful. The only thing is I don't want anything too showy. And the ring should be smaller than my index finger and not obstruct my hand Also this is also my first contest so I don't know how much time this will take so I'm not specifying a time limit. I think I need to increase the number of entries though so everyone can have a chance to win in case there's a bunch of entries. I'm not sure Let d41b202975

The Kontentia Engine: This game will be built using a proprietary game engine called Kontentia. Kontentia is developed by the creative team behind the hit fantasy browser-game 5th Planet and has been built to give the user the power of code and data. Kontentia allows for graphical flexibility, easy scripting, and full access to the files used in the game. Future features: Reasons for a Kickstarter: We are currently developing the game using the Kontentia Engine. In order to develop and distribute the game we need to build a base of strong programmers, artists and designers. The game is in a very early alpha stage and things might not work the way they are supposed to work. In order to make the game more fun and interesting we want to collect money for the team to buy the best tools, software and hardware we can use in order to develop the game. But in order to have these tools we need to collect money in order to buy them. This is why we are requesting the community to help us support the development of the game. What's new:

Silver Island is an island in the Selwyn Reach of the River Clyde and the town of Selkirk on the west coast of Scotland, in The Highlands and Islands of Scotland. Silver Island is rich in wildlife, particularly the red squirrel. Buildings on the island include the offices of the Loch Lomond and The Trossachs National Park Authority, the Sallyan Sands Hotel, a youth hostel and a fishery (operated by the trust) with all the amenities needed for angling in a natural setting. Area Silver Island is one of four islands in the Silver Islands (). These include Inchmahome, Market and Garts Loch. Inchmahome and Market have water connections. Location Silver is the largest of the Islands. It is situated between Pitlochry and Blairgowrie, approximately two miles south of Blairgowrie and about five miles north of the Royal Botanic Garden at Inverewe on the west coast. It is situated in The Trossachs National Park in the area known as the Silver Islands, which is bounded by the River Tay, Tay Waters, Selkirkshire River (Tay) and the Glenshiel Water and river. It has a large area of unspoilt countryside and views of the southern Coombe Hill Range. Geology Silver is made up of marine sandstone and shale. Silver is of slightly irregular outline from above and low sandy beaches surround all of the islands. The southern coast of Silver and Inchmahome is mainly cliffs of Carboniferous Limestone. The north and west coast are more gently sloping and particularly on the west side of the island there are the fingered sea lochs or coves of Doaraich, Lomaderroch and Carninish. There is a lot of fossil dykes common in the area. History Prehistoric remains The Silver Islands are of interest for their ancient human remains which were discovered in 1980 during an archaeological dig on Inchmahome and in 1987 on Silver, when a Bronze Age burial was discovered. The richest concentration of remains on one island was found on Silver, where a local farmer found a large number of human remains buried near the island's south-western waterfront. Twenty-seven bodies had been buried, although they were not completely preserved and many had been moved from their original location. Each person had been buried with a number of tools and stone
