Any help would be very much appreciated. A: Looks like you have managed to download the complete archive, which contains a couple of large files (probably ZIP archives): ls -l `ls -al | grep spack-vdxclabs-sparkol-videoscribe-pro-edition..zip|uniq` -rw-rw-r-- 1 gewb gewb 1.7M Sep 27 11:44 spack-vdxclabs-sparkol-videoscribe-pro-edition..zip -rw-rw-r-- 1 gewb gewb 1.4M Sep 27 11:44 spack-vdxclabs-sparkol-videoscribe-pro-edition.dsl The downloaded archive is 0.8 GB in size, and looks to have got larger over time (10 minutes of download time). You can get rid of the initial.zip and.dsl files by removing those (keep the original one, though). rm spack-vdxclabs-sparkol-videoscribe-pro-edition.zip rm spack-vdxclabs-sparkol-videoscribe-pro-edition.dsl To remove other unwanted files in the downloaded archive, use this command: rm *.zip The original file you had previously downloaded is called spack-vdxclabs-sparkol-videoscribe-pro-edition.zip, which is 12.8 MB in size. Removing the initial two files, and possibly other files, will leave you with the original spack-vdxclabs-sparkol-videoscribe-pro-edition.zip and the hidden file spack-vdxclabs-sparkol-videoscribe-pro-edition.dsl. But there is still something left. Try running this command, and then double-click the.dsl file you get: sh spack-vdxclabs-sparkol-videoscribe-pro-edition.dsl In case you don't get any messages, press Ctrl+C to abort and exit. // Copyright (c) Microsoft Corporation. Torrent for Apple OS X v.10.4.12It's always tough not to get excited about a beer that is as widely loved as North Coast's Cali-Belgique, but sometimes it helps to step back and re-evaluate all of the great bottles that the industry has seen over the past few years. The worst part of this exercise is that there are plenty of great beers that slipped past me in the past, so I'm not going to feel too bad. Instead, I'll take the time to appreciate the beer that stands out above the rest as Best Beer of 2016. There's a whole lot of excellent beer coming from the United States this year, with several of the big breweries really capitalizing on the appreciation for saisons. I was pretty shocked to see that D. L. Geary's Cantillion was this great as it's not in the top 20 beers of 2015, nor the top 50. Their Scotch ale is outstanding though, so I'm not going to hold it against them. Sculpin's Not a Flamethrower, which was one of the beers that I was really missing, is clearly one of the best golden ales out there right now. The year was a little bit disappointing from an American beer standpoint, but it still had some amazing beer. Hopworks Urban Brewery's Urban IPA really surprised a lot of people this year. Up Dog Lager was just a delight, both as a lager and as a session beer. I had read about it before it came out and a friend of mine found a bottle at his homebrew store and gave it to me as a gift. I really like it and I'm so glad I
